Headline:
A showery day with a risk of thunder and hail.

Today:
A dry and bright start for most but showers will soon develop widely throughout the morning and afternoon. These are likely to be heavy and possibly thundery, with a risk of hail. Breezy and feeling cool. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will gradually fade away, leaving conditions mostly dry with clear spells at times. Although a few showers may break out in the west after dawn. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tuesday:
A chance of further showers across the region on Tuesday, heavy at times but fewer than Monday. A risk of thunder remains. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mostly dry on Wednesday with some sunny spells. Periods of sunshine on Thursday but the odd shower is possible. Fine and dry on Friday. Temperatures gradually returning towards average.
